

see the light

See the light is more than just a catch phrase at IRIS Digital Video Systems, it's something we do very well.

Our new ATM SiteWatch "edge-recorder" has been designed with ATM use in mind. This innovative system accepts up to three I.P. camera inputs, making installation and cabling easier than other conventional systems. It also utilizes our industry leading transactional image capture technology for remote retrieval by multiple users simultaneously.

In addition, the ATM SiteWatch features ATM environmental light monitoring capabilities. This helps to ensure your ATM external lighting systems are not only fully compliant but also in correct working order.

At IRIS Digital Video Systems we always see the light and soon we'll have you seeing the light too, one image at a time.
